the multidisciplinary journal

Editor

R.B. Jones MA, FRCP, DCH Paediatrician, London, England

Child: care, health and development aims to promote the study of the development of all children, but particularly those handicapped by physical, intellectual, emotional and social problems, and to provide information on new methods to help overcome these problems. Articles in the journal are of interest to workers in the child care field, as well as those working in the school medical field and with handicapped children. The editorial board includes paediatricians, psychologists and physiotherapists, speech therapists and teachers, all experienced in working with children with special needs. The journal is designed to contribute to the expansion of sound programmes of care and treatment and to greater cooperation between the various disciplines concerned with child development.
